

MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIRMAN

We welcome you to the launch of DeliverNJ, a trade association formed to provide a source of information and advocacy on behalf of New Jersey's entire logistics industry. Our mission is to create a membership of logistics industry companies that can work with other industry associations and strategic partners to foster continued growth of New Jersey's robust logistics economy. We will keep a watchful eye on undue regulation and other forces that threaten our industry's economic well-being.

Known a generation ago for its pharmaceutical industry, which gave it the nickname "the world's medicine chest", today New Jersey is a thriving logistics nucleus serving the 15,000,000 people that live in the tri-state area. Yet our success and growth is always under risk of attack. Our hope is that by collaboration with industry association partners we can see our industry grow for the balance of the 21st century.

It was at a meeting held in April of this year that support for an industry-wide trade association was affirmed by the major stakeholders of the New Jersey logistics marketplace. That meeting capped years of conversation among existing industry groups and companies. We look forward to widespread participation by the companies that lead our industry.
